

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

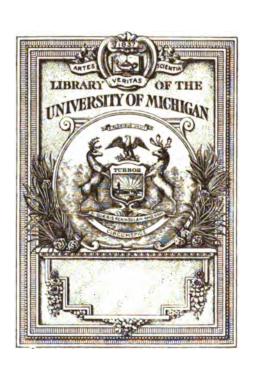

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. &lt;sup>1</sup>This table includes all incorporated places having at least 2,500 inhabitants, so far as they have been returned by the census enumerators separate from the population of the townships, precincts, districts, etc., of which they form a part. It also includes two unincorporated places in Alsaka, one unincorporated place in Hawaii, and all towns in the New England states which have a population of at least 2,500, but which do not contain an incorporated place with that amount of population. No attempt was made at the Twelfth Census to ascertain the population of unincorporated places.

Mortality

THE REGISTRATION AREA.

The following tables of mortality statistics are limited to the registration area, which embraces 10 registration states—namely, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, and Vermont—and outside these states 153 registration cities. These are all states and all cities having at least 8,000 inhabitants, for which the registration of deaths under local laws and ordinances was found to be sufficiently accurate for use by the Census Office. The population of the registration area in 1900 was 28,807,269, or about 38 per cent of the entire population of continental United States.

At the beginning of each table a summary is given for-

- 1. The registration area, comprising registration states and registration cities in other states.
  - 2. All registration cities (346 in number).
  - 3. Registration states.
    - (a) Total.
    - (b) Registration cities (193 in number).
    - (c) The remainder of the states.
  - 4. Registration cities in states other than the registration states (153 in number). All tables relate to the census year ending May 31, 1900.

Fror purposes of comparison, spring caives, coits, and lambs are not included in the total numbers of neat cattle, horses and mules, and sheep, respectively, for 1900. In 1850 they were excluded from reports by instructions to enumerators. For other census years, no instructions were given concerning them. It is probable that a few, but not all, were reported. For figures for the total number of domestic animals on farms and ranges in 1900, see Table 122.

Including estimated number of range animals separately reported.

No separate report or estimate of range animals.

<sup>Not including acreage of cornstalks.
Including states not reporting for 1900.
The acreage of beans and pease for the years 1890 and 1880 was not reported.
The census of 1880 gave acreage for but 18 states, owing to unsatisfactory reports.</sup>

Exact comparisons between the censuses shown in this table are difficult and sometimes impossible on account of changes which have taken place from census to census in the form of inquiries contained in the schedules, in the industries canvassed, and in the methods of compilation. Comparisons between the censuses of 1890 and 1900 are more exact than has ever before been the case; but even between these two censuses there are certain important differences in the forms of inquiry, or the methods of handling the statistics in compilation, to which careful attention should be paid.

Language, the memous of manning the statistics in compination, to which earest ascention should be paid.

1. Capital.—It can not be assumed that any true comparability exists between the statistics on this subject elicited prior to 1890. At the census of 1890 the question read: "Capital (real and personal) invested in the business." At the census of 1890 live capital, i. e., cash on hand, bills receivable, unsettled ledger accounts, raw materials, stock in process of manufacture, finished products on hand, and other sundries, was for the first time included as a separate and distinct item of capital, and the capital invested in realty was divided between land, buildings, and machinery. The form of this inquiry at the census of 1890 and 1900 was so similar that comparison may be safely made.

2. Salaried officials.—No comparison of the statistics of the number and salaries of salaried officials of any character can be made between the reports of any censuses. Not until the census of 1890 did the census begin to differentiate sharply between salaried officials, i. e., employees engaged at a fixed compensation per annum, and the wage-earning class, i. e., employees paid by the hour, the day, the week, or the piece, for work performed and only for such work. Prior to 1890 such salaried officials, if returned at all, were returned with the wage-earners proper. At the census of 1890 the number and salaries of proprietors and firm members actively engaged in the business, or in supervision, were reported, combined with clerks and other officials. Where proprietors and firm members were reported without salaries, the amount that would ordinarily be paid for similar services was estimated. At the census of 1900 the number of proprietors and firm members actively engaged in industry or in supervision was ascertained, but no salaries were reported for this class, salaries, as a earnings of the business for their compensation.

3. Employees and wages.—At the censues of 1850 and 1860 the inquiries regarding employees and wages called for "the average number of hands employed: male, iemale," "the average monthly cost of female labor." At the census of 1870 the average number of hands employed was called for, divided between "males above 16 years, females above 15 years, and children and youth," and the "total amount paid in wages during the year" was first called for. The inquiries at the census of 1880 were like those of 1870, though more extended for some of the selected industries.

was first called for. The inquiries at the census of 1890 were like those of 1870, though more extended for some of the selected industries.

At the census of 1890 the average number of persons employed during the entire year was called for, and also the average number employed at stated weekly rates of pay, and the average number was computed for the actual time the establishments were reported as being in operation. At the census of 1900 the greatest and least numbers of employees were reported, and also the average number employed during each month of the year. The average number of wage-earners (men, women, and children) employed during the entire year was computed in the Census Office by using 12, the number of calendar months, as a divisor into the total of the average numbers reported for each month. This difference in the method of ascertaining the average number of wage-earners during the entire year resulted in a variation in the average number as between the two censuses.

Furthermore, the schedules for 1890 included in the wage-earning class "overseers, and foremen or superintendents (not general superintendents or managers)," while the census of 1900 separates from the wage-earning class such salaried employees as general superintendents, clerks, and salesmen. It is probable that this change in the form of the question has resulted in eliminating from the wage-earners, as reported by the present census, many high-salaried employees included in 1890.

4. Miscellaneous expenses.—This item was not shown at any census prior to that of 1890. Comparison between the totals reported can safely be made between the last two censuses.

5. Materials.—The same statement is true regarding the materials used in manufactures. With the exception of the schedules on which a few selected industries were reported at the census of 1890, the question of the rehedules on which a few selected industries were reported at the census of 1890, the question of the rehedules on which a few selected industries were reported at t

GLOSSARY.

Alien.—A foreign born male of voting age who has neither been naturalized nor taken out first naturalization papers.

Animal products.—Wool, mohair and goat hair, milk, butter and cheese made on farms, poultry, eggs, honey, wax, animals sold, and animals slaughtered.

Area.—The area of the United States (with the exception of Alaska and Hawaii) was determined by summing up the square degrees, i. e., the regions comprised between consecutive parallels and meridians. Along the coast and the boundary lines of the country the areas of the fractional square degrees were obtained by direct measurement by means of scales, in every case measuring the smaller portion, whether land or water, to avoid as far as possible the errors incident to the projections and scales of the maps.

The areas of the several states and territories were determined in a similar manner. In cases where the square degree is divided by boundary lines into two or more parts, these parts were distributed between or among the states by direct measurement from the best available maps, the sum of the parts being made to equal the whole, as determined by computation.

The areas of counties are the results of direct measurements from the best county maps, corrected arbitrarily in order to make them add up to the areas of the states.

Capital.—Includes land, buildings, machinery, tools, and implements, and live capital owned and borrowed. Does not include value of rented property. (See note, page 300.)

Cash tenant.—One who rents a farm for a fixed money rent or a stated amount of labor or of farm commodities.

City.—The term as used in Table 37 includes all incorporated places having at least 2,500 inhabitants, all New England towns of like size and not containing an incorporated place, two unincorporated places in Alaska, and one unincorporated place in Hawaii.

Colored.—Used in the census of Porto Rico, taken by the War Department, to include negroes, Mongolians, and persons of mixed race.

Continental United States.—That part of the United States lying on the continent of North America south of the Canadian boundary. (See Letter of transmittal, page xi.)

Death rate.—The number of deaths during the census year, compared with the population of the same area June 1, 1900. This may be expressed per 1,000, per 10,000, or per 100,000 of the population.

Dwelling.—A place in which, at the time of the census, one or more persons reguarly sleep. It need not be a dwelling in the usual sense of the word; it may be a room in a factory, store, or office building, a loft over a stable, a canal boat, a tent, or a wigwam. Hotels, boarding or lodging houses, and tenement or apartment houses are classed as dwellings.

Family.—A group of individuals who jointly occupy a dwelling or part of a dwelling, or an individual living alone in any place of abode. All the occupants and employees of a hotel, if they regularly sleep there, make up a single family.

Family, not private.—A hotel, boarding house, school, or institution, or a group composed of laborers at work on a farm, plantation, railroad, or road, of miners or lumbermen in camp, of the crew of a boat or vessel, of soldiers and sailors at a military post or station or on a naval vessel, etc.

Farm.—All the land under one management, used for raising crops and pasturing live stock, with the wood lots, swamps, and meadows connected therewith, and the farmer's residence and all other buildings used in connection with the farming operations. Market, truck, and fruit gardens, orchards, nurseries, cranberry marshes, greenhouses, and city dairies are farms, provided the entire time of at least one individual is devoted to their care.

Governmental establishments.—Manufacturing establishments operated by national, state, or municipal authorities, not including educational, eleemosynary, penal, and reformatory institutions.

Gross value of products.—The value of all manufactured products reported during the census year. (See Net value of products.)

Hand trades.—The term includes the following industries: Bicycle and tricycle repairing; blacksmithing and wheelwrighting; boots and shoes, custom work and repairing; carpentering; clothing, men's, custom work and repairing; clothing, women's, dressmaking; dyeing and cleaning; furniture, cabinetmaking, repairing, and upholstering; lock and gun smithing; masonry, brick and stone; millinery, custom work; painting, house, sign, etc.; paper hanging; plastering and stuccowork; plumbing, and gas and steam fitting; sewing machine repairing; taxidermy; typewriter repairing; and watch, clock, and jewelry repairing.

Hay and forage.—Includes wild, salt, and prairie grasses, millet and Hungarian grasses, alfalfa or lucern, clover, grains cut green for hay, and forage crops.

Illiterates.—Persons at least 10 years of age unable to both read and write any language.

Improved farm land .- See Unimproved farm land.

Indian.—The figures for Alaska include Eskimos.

Industrial combination.—This term includes cases where a number of formerly independent mills have been brought together into one company, under a charter obtained for that purpose. It includes, also, corporations organized for the purpose of holding the stock of other corporations, but not directly owning the plants and carrying on the manufacture. It excludes large establishments which have grown up not by combination but by the erection of new plants or the purchase of old ones; corporations engaged in the manufacture and distribution of gas and electric light and power; and combinations or associations of independent establishments and corporations, formed for the purpose of selling goods at uniform prices or through a single agency.

Males of voting age. - Males at least 21 years of age.

Military and naval.—Persons in the military and naval service (including civilian employees, etc.) stationed abroad, not credited to any state or territory.

Mongolian.—Chinese and Japanese.

Nativity of parents.—Parent of unknown nativity considered native.

Negro.-All persons of negro descent.

Net value of products.—The gross value of products minus the cost of all materials purchased and used in a partly manufactured form. (See Gross value of products.)

North Atlantic division.—See Letter of transmittal, page xii.

North Central division.—See Letter of transmittal, page xii.

Principal source of income.—Applied to a farm, the principal source of income is that product which in value exceeds any other product of the farm and at the same time constitutes at least 40 per cent of the value of all products not fed to live stock.

Race.—An ethnical stock or a great division of mankind having in common certain distinguishing physical peculiarities. The races distinguished in this volume are the white or European, the negro or African, the red or American Indian, and the yellow or Mongolian, the last being subdivided in most cases into its two national groups, Chinese and Japanese.

Registration area. - See page 178.

Share tenant.—One who rents a farm for a share (as one-third, one-half, or other proportion) of the products.

South Atlantic division.—See Letter of transmittal, page xii.

South Central division.—See Letter of transmittal, page xii.

Unimproved farm land.—Farm land which has never been plowed, mown, or cropped, and also farm land once cultivated but now grown up to trees and shrubs.

Value of products.—The value as obtained or fixed at the shop or factory, not including commissions or expenses of the sales department. Unless otherwise specified, this term represents the gross value of products. (See Gross value of products.)

Wage-earners, average number.—Obtained by dividing the sum of the average numbers employed during each month of the census year by twelve. Persons employed by a contractor are classed as in his employment, and not as in the employment of the person or firm for whom the contract work is done.

Western division.—See Letter of transmittal, page xii.

White population.—The figures for Hawaii include Hawaiians, part Hawaiians, and South Sea Islanders.
